

September 18, 2007

Dear Friends,

This is just a reminder that as early as January 31, 2008, U.S. citizens traveling between the U.S. and Mexico by land will be required to present a valid U.S. passport. Even though it is probable that the deadline may be extended due to the huge backlog of passport applications, it is our position that if you do not have a passport and plan to travel with us in 2008, that you apply for a passport now. This includes children and teens. For more information on passport rules, go to the Homeland Security website www.dhs.gov/xtrvlsec and reference the Western Hemisphere Travel Initiative.

Thank you,
